Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Examiner and Applicant's representative discussed the prior art of record. Specifically, Applicant's representative pointed out that the references were not properly combinable. The Halliwell reference teaches of identifying software already installed on the user system, Halliwell teaches away from user selection that would allow the user to select from a directory of software available for download that is not already installed on the user system. Furthermore, Chernow does not teach of presenting a directory of software as claimed. In light of today's discussion Examiner agreed that the Halliwell-Chernow combination failed to teach the claims between 68-382. However, independent claims 383 and 398 will be amended to recite that the software selected has a function of a directory of software.
